

FARATA

OUR SUCCESS STORIES

SuranceBay <http://surancebay.com>

This system automates the work of insurance agents as well as the back office routines in a smart way by replacing conventional paper-intensive process with highly efficient electronic forms. Most of the manual data entry is replaced with the auto-filling of the documents by integrating with the software provided by state authorities, financial and medical institutions. Conventional paperwork is electronically processed with optical character recognition - the content is matched and processed using full text search and dynamic business rules. As result, typical contract preparation for an insurance agent has been reduced from 30 to 3 minutes.

Besides regular desktop computers this application supports a variety of user devices including iPad, Android tablets, and smart phones.

ITBConnect Trading Platform <http://itbsecurities.com>

ITB is technology company specializing in bond trading. It provides trading platforms for broker/dealers, white box implementations for institutions and electronic trading exchanges.

ITB has outsourced to Farata Systems entire product development and integration services for their trading platform. We developed this complex system within one year and are currently working on implementation services for different clearance systems and integration with in-house systems. You can watch a short video showing this system in action at <http://itbsecurities.com>.
